INFORMATION: The UGA Department of Dance, housed in the Franklin College of Arts and Sciences, offers an AB degree in dance with an option of teacher certification, and beginning Fall 2020, an opportunity for a "Double Dawg" degree, the Master of Education in the Arts with an additional year of study upon completion of the AB degree. UGA is accredited by the National Association of Schools of Dance. Four tenure-track, one Lecturer and additional adjunct faculty and staff serve undergraduate dance majors, dance minors, and 600-800 other university students each year. The department supports the CORE Contemporary and Aerial Dance Company, UGA Ballet Ensemble, and Dance Repertory Project, and offers other performance opportunities for students including Spring Dance Concert and the Young Choreographers Series. Annual performances are held in the New Dance Theatre, which also serves as a studio space in the Dance Building. The Dance Building has four studios with sprung floors, an active learning classroom, and media center for student use. Please see more information about our program at: www.dance.uga.edu.
